To whom it may concern

Please find my submission on the Electoral Law discussion paper below:

- Caps on political donations should be maintained, however they can be raised to $10,000 to minimise administration, and be for whatever purpose (not just electoral campaigns);
- Election campaign expenditure should continue to be capped;
- Truth in political advertising is imperative, and must be complied with;
- Proof of identity requirements for voting are not required;
- Enrolments should not be permitted on election day;
- Compulsory voting should definitely be continued.

Regards

Claire Thorstensen
