- > Political donations, I believe should have a cap.
- > Public funding for elections also should have a cap and would stop unions from handing over loads of money without caps etc.
- > Election campaign expenditure should have a cap and I agree with part
- > B on improvements and changes that should be made in accordance
- >
- > I believe that truth should be in political advertising and is needed. It was proven in the last election that it is needed. And I believe if false statements are made that action should be taken accordingly.
- >
- > How to vote card in my option are a waste if money and believe people already know who they are voting for and i believe a poster up at the booth in front of the person with all candidates and what party they are from should be listed and visible. And this would stop the waste on paper and money.
- >
- > Proof of identity is a must in my eye and can't believe you don't have to show it! Yet again anyone can pretend to be you. And I believe that electronic voting would prevent people going to different booths etc if this was pasted through it would stop numerous votes from the same person and identity fraud.
- >
- > Enrollment on voting day should be made easier for people, and would make voting easier on the day.

- > Postal voting would be great for the elderly and sick if they wanted to have a say.

- >
- > Electronic voting would make life easier and stop the donkey vote etc I do understand that issues can a raise but can be over come too.
- >
- > Compulsory voting- I am against compulsory voting in a country that
- > says its our civic duty too. It should be a right and should be taken
- > away from people that do crimes etc this will also stop donkey voters
- > and ill-informed votes to vote. It would make people more interested
- > in politics. And would stop all the angry people abusing people that
- > volunteer on the day about having to waste the day to go down and vote
- > etc
