

NDIS REFORMS

PAUSE, RESET, CO-DESIGN

Queenslanders with disability, families, carers, advocacy organisations and service providers have raised issues regarding a number of proposed changes to the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

The Commonwealth Minister of the NDIS, Minister Reynolds has announced a pause to the rollout of the reforms and is undertaking further consultation with the disability sector and with State and Territory Governments.

The Queensland government have an important role as a partner with the NDIS.

This forum is a chance to hear from a number of speakers and provide feedback about the issues and potential solutions. Speakers will include NDIS participants, families and service providers representatives.

The forum will include small breakout rooms so people can share their feedback and solutions to ensure that the reforms reflect what Queenslanders want for the NDIS going forward.
