Why change something that is not broken. Compulsory voting has served this nation @ state well since its inception, look at the stats regarding other countries where voting is optional @ the inherent problems they face, do we want that here? Certainly not. This proposal from a govt. that has lost its way is just another reason to ensure that you @ many of your colleagues will be looking for a new job after the next election. I voted for the LNP last time to get rid of a corrupt administration only to see it replaced by a regime that in some ways is worse. If you think that in 3 years time people will have forgotten what you @ Newman have foisted on the QLD public you are sadly mistaken. Newmans speech upon accepting govt in 2012 promised to govern fairly for all Queenslanders, I am yet to see any evidence of this from a govt. that is characterized by inexperienced politicians who have lost touch with the electorate. I am not often moved @ correspond this way however the conduct of the ministry @ its leadership by Newman @ Seeney has motivated me to speak. Sincerely. Richard Crofts .
