THE ORGANISED CRIME REGIME The interplay between some of the orders

CONSORTING OFFENCE

The official warning could lead to conviction of the consorting offence if you continue to have contact with the named recognised offender/s.

See Fact Sheet 2.

RESTRICTED PREMISES ORDER

The official warning could lead to the making of a restricted premises order. See Fact Sheets 3A, 3B & 3C.

FORTIFICATION REMOVAL ORDER

The official warning could lead to the making of a fortification removal order.

See Fact Sheets 5A & 5B.

offender - what might this mean for you under PUBLIC SAFETY ORDER

Depending upon who you consort with, it could lead to a Public Safety Order.

See Fact Sheet 4A & 4B.

CONTROL ORDER

You are given an official warning not to consort with a recognised

the Organised Crime

Regime?

If convicted of the consorting offence, you could become subject to an Organised Crime Control Order.

See Fact Sheet 1.

As a 'controlled person' subject to a control order - what might this mean for you?

